

BALTIMORE CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Free Parenting Matters Conference: Connecting Crayons, Computers, College, and Careers

The Maryland Parental Information Resource Center (MD PIRC) and Baltimore City Public Schools' Community Engagement Office invite parents, families, students, educators and caregivers to attend MD PIRC's second annual Parenting Matters conference.

When: Saturday, November 7, 2009; 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Where: University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC)
1000 Hilltop Circle, Baltimore, MD; Check-in: University Center building

What: Free information, resources and materials on health, education, college financing and college readiness, the Maryland School Assessment exam (MSA) and the High School Assessment exam (HSA) will be provided. Free continental breakfast, lunch and door prizes will be available as well as interpretation for Spanish speakers. Child care for children ages two through five and activities for six-to-fourteen-year olds are free, but space is limited, so please register now.

To register, go to www.mdpirc.org/conference, contact Megan or Nora at MD PIRC toll free at 877-637-2736 or by email at megan@mdpirc.org.

Baltimore City Public Schools is providing two free buses, but space is limited. Register for the conference first, then call the Community Engagement Office at 410-545-1870 to reserve your seat. Let us know which bus you want to ride and how many family members you have registered. Buses will leave at 8:30 a.m. sharp.

BUS LOCATIONS

West Baltimore	East Baltimore
Harlem Park Elementary/Middle School 1401 W. Lafayette Ave., Baltimore, MD 21217	John Ruhrah Elementary/Middle School 701 S. Rappolla St., Baltimore, MD 21224

GREAT KIDS
GREAT SCHOOLS